

Erice e le saline di Trapani-Paceco

A free walk in the ancient medieval village, which dominates the whole province from above and enjoys a spectacular view of the Egadi Islands.

Continue towards the salt pans of Trapani, where you will walk along the banks of the salt pan, to admire all the tanks and various water passages essential for the production of the precious artisan salt and discover the ancient history of the salt pans and the salt museum, experiencing a sensory experience.

An itinerant day, designed for adults and children, which will take you to the discovery of sites where history and nature merge into a single marvel.
